Thus there was a deficiency of $27,598,834, $21,598,834 of which was provided for by a deficiency appropriation in April, leaving $6,000,000 yet to be appropriated to meet the requirements of the year just ending.

There is a lively time among the Democrats of the Sixth congressional district of Kentucky on account of the rivalry for Carlisle's vacant chair. A Week's Events in the Fatherland.

[Copyright, 1890, by the New York Associated Press.] did not send a circular note to the powers, nor did he communicate with any foreign smiled with pleasure. Stanley doffed his representative, except the Austrian Ambas- hat to the crowd and beamed upon them sador, on the subject of Prince Bismarck's utterances in interviews with newspaper correspondents. The alleged remarks of the Prince to the effect that Germany was not bound by treaty to assist Austria in the event of a war with Russia over the than "toasting" at home. Everybody is struggle for dominance in the Balkan peninsula, caused Count Kalnoky to inquire how far the Emperor and the Chancellor shared this interpretation of the responsi-bilities of the alliance. General Von Caprivi, in his response, avoiding the discussion of such an interpretation, declined to attach any value to the reported interviews with the retired statesman. Prince Bismarck has written to both Signor Crispi and Count Kalnoky, correct ing the irritating impressions arising from these reports of interviews. The Emperor and his ministers concur in respectful treatment of the ex-Chancellor. They recognize his full right to a public expression of his views on state affairs through any medium he may choose. Suggestions have been given to the official press to allude to Prince Bismarck only when necessary, and to then speak of him with unvarying courtesy as a statesman who has rendered the greatest services to his country, but who has probably outlived his capacity to guide the affairs of the nation. This exactly represents the attitude the Emperor desires the ministers to assume towards Prince Bismarck.

The North German Gazette, which is now as much Chancellor Von Caprivi's organ as ever it was Prince Bismarck's, seeks to minimize the import of the Prince's utterances, by declaring them to be those of a mere private gentleman, having nothing whatever to do with the present policy of the empire, or with the means of influencing it. This view of the ex-Chancellor's position, however, ignores the fact that he still holds intimate relations and a continnal correspondence with the heads of the federal states, the leaders of the Conservatives and National Liberals, besides maintaining touch with foreign statesmen. The government may soon be glad to accept his assistance to pass the army bill.

The Hamburgher Nachrichten intimates that the Prince, if he enters Parliament, will throw the weight of his influence on the side of Chancellor Von Caprivi, with whose policy at home and abroad he continues to be in avanuathy. Nothing is tinnes to be in sympathy. Nothing is definitely decided as to his accepting a seat in the Reichstag, but it is understood that he will not do so unless occasion demands his presence to justify his policy as con-tinued by Chancellor Von Caprivi. The occasion is likely soon to arise. The com-mission on the army bill has disclosed a complete change of temper toward the government proposals. Before the Whitsuntide vacation, Herr Reichster alone openly opposed the credit demands. Dr. Windthorst, Herr Bennigsen and even some of the Conserva-tives on the commission declare that the country will not support the continuous increase in the military charges. The frank admissions of Gen. Verdy Du Verners, Minister of War, that he did not know how much more money he would be required to ask roused remonstrance on every side. The opinions of the constituencies were ascertained during the recess, and these have incited the members to demand explicit proposals, the augmentation of the numerical strength of the peace effective, with a definite budget, The Centre party, the Freisinniges, Volkspartei and Socialists the Freisinniges. Volkspartei and Socialists are also combining to refuse to support the bill unless it is accompanied by a provision for a shorter period of compulsory military service. Herr Richter demands as the price of his support the establishment of a two years' service, the abolition of the imperial guard, the abolition of the system by which civil posts are accorded to sub-officers on retiring from the service, the suppression of cadet schools, and the abolition of everything which assists aristocrats to a special thing which assists aristocrats to a special rank in the army. Finally he demands the suppression of the September. The coalition will not insist upon all these demands, but will hold out for enough to render the fate of the bill doubtful, while assuring stormy times within the Reichstag.

It is a critical period for the government. Before the opposition of the commission became apparent the government expected to pass the army bill and close the Reichstag during the first week of July, leaving the labor bill until the autumn session. The labor commission will not complete its discussion of the bill for several weeks. The members desire an adjournment until the autumn; the government does not desire to pass the measure until it is seen how the workmen behave after the expiration of the Socialist law at the end of September. It is improbable, therefore, that the bill will take its final shape until the end of autumn. Long before then the upheaval over the army bill may alter the position of the government. The lower house of the Prussian Diet today rejected the clerical bill on third read-ing. Minister Von Gossler sought to weaken the Centrist opposition by declaring that Dr. Windthorst was inaccurate in as-serting that the Catholic bishops disapproved of the measure. On the contrary the minister said, the Pope had informed the minister said, the Pope had informed the government, through the same clerical channels that were chosen in the negotiation of the May laws, that the church approved of the bill. This statement did not lices were held by the London, French and Advices from London received at the Foreign Office report that Sir Percy Anderson will arrive here on Monday to resume the negotiations with Dr. Kranel, head of the Colonial Department, relative to territory in Africa. The Emperor's proposals made in his communications to Sir Edward Malet, the British embassador, have been practically accepted, besides which the English concede to Germany a part of Ugamiland. Ugamiland.

The report of Major Wissmann, published in a White Book to-day, advocates the erection of fortified ports at Ta-bora and Cinja and the establishment of stations in the lakes, on which, he says, small armed steamers are indispensable.
The White Book further gives a report of Captain Valetto, from Zanzibar, stating that Emin Pasha, with his expedition, is proceeding to the Victoria Nyanza.

General Von Caprivi attended a grand military banquet to-night. Many generals and a few civilians were present. The Chancellor was given a cordial greeting. Mr. Phelps, the American minister, was among the guests, and was seated next to the Chancellor.

The Chancellor.

The Crown Prince of Italy will arrive here on Monday. He will stay at Potsdam for four days. During his visit he will attend reviews of the troops, and be present at gala dinners and state concerts. He will attend the ceremony of laying the foundation-stone of the church to be erected in momory of the late Empress

Augusta. The acconching of the Duchess of Sparta, sister of Emperor William, is expected to take place in July. If the child is a son the King of Greece will abdicate in favor of the Duke of Sparta. Empress Frederick will go to Athens after the event.

The baptism of the daughter of Prince Frederick Leopold took place at Potsdam on Wednesday. The new court costume-knee breeches, buckled shoes and silk stockings-was universally worn. Prince Henry of Nassau has professed his conversion to the Catholic faith in the cathedral at Fritzlar. The Socialist, Janiszewski, who was the opponent of Professor Virchow at the last election, has been expelled from Berlin. He was an intimate friend of Mendelsohn, who was recently arrested in Paris and was sentenced along with him at Posen.

An American citizen named Jonassen, who was arrested here on the charge of two students, who accused him of uttering In regard to the silver bill passed by the treasonable words in a beer-house, has been House Saturday, while it places a limit on liberated. The police were censured by the court for the arrest, there being no e dence to justify their interference. The Taget latt asserts that the Minister of War informed the military committee of the Reichstag that a credit of 200,000,000 marks would be necessary to build strategic railways.

Stanley's Popularity.

[Copyright, 1890, by the United Press.] LONDON. June 7 .- Stanley's wedding is fixed for July 12. Stanley's popularity as a social lion has no indication of abating. To-night he is dining with the Savages

-not the kind he encountered in
Africa's wilds, but the very civilized lot of club men so designated. Stanley was in good humor, owing perhaps to a pleasant experience of the day. He and Miss Tennant drove to the office of the Archbishop of Canterbury's registrar, and the famous explorer applied personally for the license to marry his fair companion. While the couple were in the building quite a crowd gathered, some one having recognized Stanley as he entered. When they came out they were greeted with hearty cheers, and a little girl handed Miss Tennant an BERLIN, June 7.—Chancellor Von Caprivi impromptu offering of jessamines, id not send a circular note to the powers, whereat the prospective bride blushed and eager to secure the honor of the hero's company, and he is obliged to decline many urgent and flattering invitations. He did not attend the medical society's banquet to surgeon Parke because he wanted Parke to enjoy the honors without being overshadowed by the presence of the chief of the expedition.

Stanley and his financee were royally entertained at luncheon yesterday by Ashmead Bartlett, the menu being an odd arrangement of French dishes with grotesque African names printed on a map of Africa. After to-night's dinner with the Savages he ran over to the banquet of the British Press Association, not being willing to disappoint his journalistic friends entirely, though he was quite late. George Augustus Sala and most of the other lights of the London newspaper world were there to Happenings in France.

Paris, June 7 .- The release of the Duke of Orleans was the work of President Carnot himself. A large section of the Republican party was unwilling to have him distinguish by any special act of clemency.

Their favorite idea was to pardon him on the 14th of July, the anniversary of the fall of the Bastile. This date is often selected as a sort of general day of delivery for culprits toward whom the government is willing to show clemency. President Carnot, however, preferred not to extend the pardon in such a way that the Royalists would have felt it as an affront. Interpellations in the Chamber of Deputies disclosed a strong Republican minority, which opposed this special act of clemency. Nevertheless, the government had a hand-some majority, and no evil results are an-

Considerable excitement has been aroused among Parisian merchants in consequence of Washington rulings, which require that consular certificates for goods exported to the United States shall be issued at the consulate nearest to the point of manufacture. They complain bitterly, and the Minister of Commerce has been asked to interfere. It is said that representations on the subject have been made by the government to the United States minister, in the hope of securing fresh instructions from Washington for the consul-general.

The sentence of the Marquis De Mores was a surprise to his Royalist and Communist friends, but not to the general public. Dispassionate Frenchmen say that his defiant attitude in the court-room and his language to the judge compelled the infliction of the severest penalties. Some excitement continues with reference to new duties proposed in the McKinley bill, and also about the more stringent requirements in the customs administrative bill. Some of the deputies threaten retaliation by heavy duties on petroleum and other imports from the United States. The press, however, remains as yet good tempered and conservative. Senator Morrill's Views. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. NEW ALBANY, June 7.—Hon. Justin S. Morrill, United States Senator from Vermont, the oldest member of the Senate, is in this city, visiting his brother, Dr. W. F. Morrill. He leaves to-morrow for Walhington to resume the duties of his office. The Senator was seen at the residence of his brother, and a pleasant interview was

On the subject of pensions he thinks the disability bill will be preferred to the disability bill will be preferred to the service bill that passed the House. This will require an annual payment of about $150,000,000 in pensions and will provide for those soldiers who are actually disabled, the argument being that they should first be taken care of before coming to the consideration of the service pension question.

Senator Morrill sees more difficulty in the silver question than any other subject now before Congress, and did not venture a prediction as to what the outcome may be. He would favor a liberal bill, but it should be one that would not give us dolshould be one that would not give us dollars of different values. Free silver coinage, in his opinion, would give us a cheap silver dollar before which gold would disappear, leaving but a single standard of value. There is a wide divergence of opinion among Republicans on that subject which will be somewhat difficult to harmonize. Much depends upon the present Congress, and the Republicans cannot be too careful of their actions in regard to matters of such vital importance.

The presentation to Senmanutafa, Chief of Apia, of a whale-boat, built by order of the United States government, took place on board the Mohican. May 14. The presentation was made by Commander Shepard, of the Mohican, who said the boat had been built at Mare Island navy-yard by order of Admiral Kimberly. Commander Shepard read a letter from Admiral Brown, commanding the Pacific squadron, in which he says the beat was forwarded by him at the request of Secretary Tracy, in recognition of the invaluable assistance rendered by the Chief in directing the Samoans in their noble efforts to save the lives of the shipwrecked officers and seamen of the United States ships on the 16th of March, 1889, and for his untiring

He has since hoisted at the stern of his boat the Samoan flag which was hauled down by the Germans at the time of the deportation of Malietoa.

The wreck of the German man-of-war Adler has been sold for $530. The German government is responsible for removing the wreck, which at present shuts out the lower harbor light, so that no vessel can

St. Louis Derby Won by Bill Letcher. Sr. Louis, June 7 .- A more ideal day for racing could not be conceived than favored the patrons of the St. Louis Jockey Club for the opening of the regular summer meeting. The grand-stand was packed, with fully two thousand ladies occupying the private boxes and reserved sections of the stand, and the entire attendance was estimated at ten thousand. James B. Ferguson officiated in sending off the fields. The judges were President Charles Green, of the St. Louis Jockey Club; Gen. J. F. Robinson, president of the Lexington, Ky., course, and B. C. Bruce, Ferguson's starting was the best ever secured in St. Louis, and everything connected with the day's sport went off to perfection. The track was in went off to perfection. The Derby race was, of course, the big event of the day, but it was a great disappointment. There was but one horse in it so far as qualities for first-class performance is concerned—Bill Letcher. He had a cinch on the result. In betting he was a hot favorite at $12 to $1. Queer Toy had been backed heavily for the place, but was scratched early in the day, leaving only Letcher. The Bishop and Grayson in the race. Ferguson sent them off at the first attempt. The Bishop in the lead Letcher attempt. The Bishop in the lead, Letcher half a length back and Grayson a full length behind. At the first quarter Gray-son attempted to bolt and his jockey had all he could do to keep him out of the fence. He was not in the race after that. Passing the stand the positions were the same as at the start. They remained practically unchanged till the mile was reached, when Bill Letcher, with the greatest ease, passed The Bishop and had the race won. He traveled easily into the stretch. Here The Bishop was given the whip, but he could not catch the leader. Letcher finished first under a pull. The Bishop was second, four lengths back, and two lengths in front of Grayson. Time,

It is estimated that 40.-000 men were in the procession that marched to the park, where fully 200,000 more had assembled to take part 200,000 more had assembled to take part in the meeting. Among the speakers were Sir Wilfrid Lawson, Wm. S. Caine, M. P.; John Burns, the labor agitator, Michael Davitt and Professor Stuart. Upon leaving the park Sir Henry Havelock-Allen in some way incurred the ill will of the crowd and was jeered and hooted at. He incautiously replied, whereupon the mob made a rush and nearly unhorsed him. The police formed a cordon around him, and by a free use of their batons kept back the infuriated workmen, who threw heavy clods furiated workmen, who threw heavy clods of earth at the officers and tried to break through the cordon. A few arrests were made, and Sir Henry finally cantered off, escorted by mounted policemen. With the exception of the foregoing the demonstration was conducted in an orderly manner.

Athletic Records Broken. NEW YORK, June 7.—The forty-fourth series of games of the New York Athletic Club were held at Travers island to-day and were witnessed by about four thousand persons. The features of the games were the remarkable putting of the shot by George R. Gray, of the New York Athletic Club, who made four world's records, and the throwing of the sixteen-pound harumer by W. L. Condon, of the same club. Gray put the fourteen-pound shot a distance of 47 feet 77s inches, breaking the record of 46 feet 834 inches, which was made by F. L. Lambrecht, M. A. C. The 16-pound shot was sent 46 feet and the 18-pound, for which there was no record, was put 41 feet 912 inches. The 21-pound hammer was sent 38 feet 838 inches, beating the record of 35 feet 10 inches made by Quackeberner of the Staten Island A. C. Each of Gray's puts are world's records. Condon threw the hammer 123 feet 634 inches, breaking the record of 107 feet 7 inches made by himself on May 19, 1888.

Tarred and Feathered.

WOOSTER, O., June 7 .- Two weeks ago Mrs. John Sigler and George Grazier left here, going to the home of Richard Austin, a brother-in-law, residing near Blackley-ville. Austin, who is a weak, sickly man, objected to their presence, but Grazier threatened to kill him if he did not keep abuse Austin, who complained to his neighbors. Grazier, when or-dered to leave Austin's house and on his knees, and begging for his life. On threats of lynching he was ordered to leave the county, which he promised to do. Grazier made all sorts of threats before leaving. It is feared blood will be spilled as a result of the affair.

Sir Edward Arnold's Son Found. SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Advices from Yokohama state that Sir Edwin Arnold, Yokohama state that Sir Edwin Arnold, who is spending some months in Japan, preparing a companion poem to his "Light of Asia," has been strangely reunited with his long-lost son. The poet is accompanied by his daughter. Last week Miss Arnold received information that her brother, who has been lost to the family for six years, was in Yokohama for six years, was in Yokohama harbor. She secured a boat and interpreter and pluckily set out into the harbor, hailing every vessel until she came upon an English captain who knew her brother, who was third mate on a tramp steamer. She found him out, and when Sir Edwin arrived a touching requion took place. The brother had been trained for the British navy, but had failed, and had run away to sea, drifting about the world until he brought up in Australia, where he fell in love and married but we feel in love and married but we were the feel in love and married but we were ried, but was forced to go to sea again to earn a living.

Fight with Two Negroes. KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 7.- Two negroes robbed the house of the station agent at Lathrop, Mo., just across the river from this city, last night, boarded a freight train, and had stolen a ride as far as Liberty, where the conductor received a message asking him to arrest them. The negroes drew revolvers and made the train-men stand back until they jumped out of the car and escaped. The sheriff was notified, and with a posse of twenty men he started in pursuit of the fugitives. They located the negroes fortified behind a rude barricade in the woods. The sheriff called upon them to surrender. In answer they opened fire upon him and his posse. The fire was returned, and one of the negroes was wounded. At latest accounts the barricade was surrounded by the posse, who had been unable to dislodge its occupants.

Officers of the Royal Arcanum.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 7.—The annual election of officers of the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum resulted in the re-election of the old officers. Dodd, of Wisconsin, supreme sentry; Dr. Charles Styer, of Pennsylvania, third member of the committee on appeals, and D. W. Wilson, of Illinois, supreme guide. The trustees and finance committee were authorized to purchase a site in Boston for a building and vaults for the use of the supreme secretary. The proceedings have been conducted harmoniously.

Van Wagoner was second by two feet, and C. C. Peabody a close third. There were nine starters, including N. H. Van Sicklen, who retired at the end of the sixty-ninth mile.

All others except Spooner, Van Wagoner and Peabody were then out of the race. In the finish Spooner was at the rear, but coming with a wonderful burst of speed carried the day. Several thousand people were present.

The Champion Slugger Talks.

PITTSBURG, June 7.- In an interview today, John L. Sullivan, the pugilist, speak-ing of the effort of certain parties to get up a match between McAulifie and Sullivan, said: "What's the use of those people Joe McAuliffe at present? Why, I would not look at $10,000. They had better talk about $15,000 to $25,000 when they want to secure the champion. I am making a very comfertable living at present, and will not talk business with anybody until I have mot and talked with that Mississippi judge, who is so anxious to make my acquaint-ance. UNLIKE TEA & COFFEE--GOOD FOR THE NERVES.

The claims of cocoa as a useful article of diet are steadily winning recognition. Unlike tea and coffee, it is not only a stimulant but a nourisher; and it has the great advantage of leaving no narcotic effects. Hence it is adapted to general use. Child Perishes in a Burning Stable, Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

ANDERSON, Ind., June 7.—A disastrous fire occurred here last night, in which little Dannie Croak, son of Patrick Croak, was busned to a crisp, and his nucle, Thomas Croak, was almost fatally burned, not a vestige of hair remaining on his head. The unfortunate fellows went to their home on South Meridian street to their home on South Meridian street late last night and, finding the house locked, went to the barn and went to sleep. Shortly after midnight Tom was awakened by a crackling noise that he took for hall, but in a moment found the barn was a sheet of flame. He picked up the little fellow and jumped to the lower part of the barn into a sheet of flame and mass of coals, and becoming overpowered, dropped his helpless little burden, a boy of ten years, and with the greatest effort escaped almost dead on his feet. The poor boy was left to perish in the flames, and the charred remains have lost all semblance of little Dan. The parents of the unfortunate boy are almost wild with grief, while Thomas Croak is suffering the most excruciating pain from the severe burns, though hope of his recovery is entertained. ery is entertained.

Two valuable horses were lost in the fire, which is supposed to have originated from spontaneous combustion, the lower part of the stable having been stored with rags and junk, in which Patrick Croak dealt.
